Onslow County hosts multiple agencies for lifesaving training exercise

Onslow County Emergency Services along with Hammocks Beach State Park hosted a Helo-Aquatic Rescue Training exercise April 10-11. The full-scale regional drill provided joint operations training for air and water rescue teams. The purpose of the exercise was to strengthen communications between several agencies from land, air and water. Agencies that took part in the training included North Carolina Emergency Management, NC Highway Patrol, and United States Coast Guard sectors among others.
